

By treating the cause, in just a few weeks the symptoms and the pain become just a memory.

Even doing fun things can cause nasty RSI / Repetitive strain injuries. Often these can cause or contribute to Chronic Pelvic Pain. Sports such as Gymnastics, Dance, even Horse riding can stretch the muscles of the inner thigh, this places stress on the Inguinal and Uterine ligaments, pulling the Uterus out of alignment.

For over a decade our therapists have found that sequentially locating and treating these RSI injuries and the contractures they cause enables the body to heal itself in just a few short weeks.

Treating the cause

Since 1997 our clients have enjoyed significant reductions in pain and symptoms because we treat what we believe is the cause of CPPS. RSI / Repetitive strain injuries to the ligaments supporting the uterus.

There are many theories on the cause of CPPS / Endometriosis. This is why it takes on average nine years to diagnose! Pain from repetitive strain injuries can start in childhood. Simply doing gymnastics, "the splits" dance even horse-riding can cause Repetitive Strain injuries to the bodies lower ligaments.

"Within such a short time I am now completely drug free and have exercised for the first time in 18 months" Brenda Fox
Managing Director Contours Gym Hamilton

*"After the third treatment the pain I had during the month had gone, and my period pain only lasted for 3 days"
"they have definitely changed my life,*

I would recommend this treatment to everyone." Jaz Lane (aged 16)

RSI and CPPS / Endo

Repetitive stress on the body whether through emotional and physiological insults or physical injury initially evokes a protective response, unless this mechanism is ameliorated it will leave its mark on the body as a variety of syndromes as diverse as Endometriosis and chronic pain syndromes. Dr Paul Crosier

Repetitive strain / RSI on the lower limbs can cause the ligaments supporting the Uterus to be under constant load, setting off an Auto-Immune cascade, flooding the Endometrium with Hormones & Proteoglycans causing strong internal Myofascial contractures to form. These can attach your Uterus to the Endometrial wall, the bladder, or the bowel in a desperate attempt to hold position and control your pain. Once the original RSI pain and contractures are released, homeostasis rapidly returns, your periods normalise, your pain is substantially reduced, and you get your life back.
